Stewardship

September 17, 2023

24th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Life of Stewardship

"For if we live, we live for the Lord, and if we die, we die for the Lord; so then, whether we live or die, we are the Lord's."
— ROMANS 14:8

This is the essence of Stewardship – everything we have and everything we are is a gift from God. We aren't "owners" of anything, we are merely "Stewards" of the gifts that God has given us, especially our very own lives. Pray to God, daily, and ask Him how He is calling you to live the life that He intended for you.

Planned Giving

St. Francis of Assisi taught us that it is in giving that we receive. Please consider remembering your parish when planning your estate. You could continue to support your parish into the foreseeable future through your planned giving. Please call us to discuss the possibility of giving through stock gifts, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, real estate gifts and life insurance gifts. Through your generosity the good works of the Church, her spiritual and corporal works of mercy will continue for years to come!

Technology is here to stay.

Everyday, more and more of life's everyday tasks are made easier and automatic through ever-evolving technology.

One way technology can make your life easier is signing up for online giving with Parish Giving™.

Please enroll today by visiting our parish website.

From the Desk of Bishop Sullivan

At Sunday Masses the weekend of Sept. 17-18, Catechetical Sunday will be observed. This year, its theme is that of the three-year National Eucharistic Revival, "This is my body given for you" (Luke 22:19).

The annual observance of Catechetical Sunday puts before the faithful the importance of catechetics for building up the faith of the people of God. It recognizes those who are involved in the ministry of religious education. Do they ever deserve our recognition! Some of these dedicated women and men teach in parish religious education programs, others in Catholic grammar and high schools, and others help with the day-to-day administration of these programs.

Their ministry is essential to the life of the Church. As is written about them in the Directory for Catechesis #110, they are "indispensable for the growth of the faith." They not only prepare future members for the Church, but also, they interact with parents and families, too many of whom are distant from the Church or minimally participate in our community of faith. They have good intentions, bringing their child to a religious education program or enrolling him or her in a Catholic school. However, their practice of our faith is minimal. Frequently, they just want their child to receive the Sacraments – with results that in our schools, they pay little attention to the child's religion curriculum and in parishes, they shop around for a program with the least requirements. These situations create pastoral conflict and bode poorly for the catechetical preparation of future generations of Catholics.

On the other hand, there are faithful parents who gladly cooperate with the religious education programs. They give priority to the Christian growth of their children. They understand that they are the first teachers of their children in the faith and seriously raise them in the faith.

The goal of the ministry of a catechist is to form a disciple of Jesus Christ. To accomplish that formation, the content of faith must be studied and learned; studying the content should be accompanied by active and regular participation in the life of the Church through prayer and the Sacraments. The goal of formation is discipleship, that is following Jesus Christ as an active member of the Roman Catholic Church. A disciple believes the Good News that the love of God has been revealed in Jesus Christ. By the example of their relationship with Jesus Christ and by their active involvement in the Church, catechists herald this goal of forming a disciple of Jesus Christ.

The definition of the word catechist is "to echo." Who does a catechist echo? The person of the Lord Jesus Christ. To do this, a catechist passes on information about the faith, information arranged at the age level of the student. Further, the catechist shares her or his faith by showing his or her relationship with God. The catechist desires the same for their students. Ultimately, catechists seek the transformation of the life of each student.

The challenges faced by our catechists are enormous. They include a secularized society with no reference to spiritual realities; the imposition of distorted values by the media and some powers that be, e.g. politicians; the absence in public discourse of the mention of the living God; the collapse of the family structure, and an anything goes morality, to mention a few. Despite the challenges, a committed catechist attempts to pass on the faith to those who live in a society that can be labeled anti-faith.

On Catechetical Sunday, each parish expresses gratitude to their parishioners who are involved in catechetical ministry. Their sacrifices, frustrations and commitment are a credit to their faith and love for our Church. Saint Paul VI in the apostolic exhortation "Evangelii nuntiandi" wrote, "Modern man listens more willingly to witness than to teachers, and if he does listen to teachers, it is because they are witnesses." In my travels around the Diocese in our schools and in our parish programs, I have met these witnesses to Jesus Christ and His Church. They minister to little ones, to teenagers and to families. They give of themselves to guide others to the knowledge and love of Jesus Christ and to our Catholic Church. As Bishop, I salute and thank them for their ministry.

The theme for this year's observance taken from the three-year Eucharistic Revival is about the Lord giving His Body and Blood. Our catechists who lovingly give of themselves to their students imitate the giving of the Lord. His gift is His Body and Blood, the Eucharist. The gift of our catechists is showing that faith in Christ and active participation in His Church lead to discipleship and eventually to eternal life.

2024 Mass Intention Books will be open on Wednesday, October 4

Readings of the Week

Reading I: Sirach 27:30-28:7

Forgive your neighbor's faults, and when you pray, your sins will be forgiven.

- The Book of Sirach is concerned with anger and quarreling.
- If we refuse to forgive, then who will forgive us?
- Refusal is a deliberate choice and it shapes a sinner's life.

Reading II: Romans 14:7-9

Whether alive or dead, we belong to the Lord.

- We belong to God, not to ourselves.
- We live not by our own power, but by the creative power of God and the mercy given us through Christ's Resurrection.
- We have no right to judge one another.
- Judgment belongs to God alone. By God's mercy we have been granted the power to forgive.

Gospel: Matthew 18:21-35

I did not say to forgive seven times but seventy times seven.

- Vengeance must not be multiplied, but instead forgiveness should be multiplied.
- God is forgiving; we are made in God's image.
- God will judge us by the measure of our forgiveness of one another.
- Our mutual forgiveness will reveal how the image of God lives in us.

Family Reflection Corner

Weekly Readings Reflection

Choose one of the following activities as a way to further reflect on the Sunday readings.

- Forgiveness should be a permanent choice. Help family members visualize their decision to forgive. Have each family member write down on a scrap of paper someone they need to forgive and for what they will forgive that person. Then without reading them, find a safe location or container to burn the scraps of paper. Pray the Our Father together as a family at the conclusion of the burn.
- Consider stories or movies where one of the characters seeks vengeance. What was the outcome of this story? Consider also stories or movies where one of the characters is humble and forgiving. What was the outcome of this story? Discuss the natural consequences of humility.

Funerals: To be arranged with the funeral director. Please call a funeral home of your choice.

The Youth and Young Adults Office at the Diocese of Camden requested that parishes come together in Intercessory Prayers for our youth. With so many daily distractions and temptations negatively affecting the mind, body, soul and spirit of our young people, it is important that we pray for healthy interactions and correct moral values in their lives. We are therefore providing time each month when parishioners can come together to pray for all children and young adults, as well as all the intentions they hold in their hearts.

Class will end with the 10:30 am Mass at St. Ann Church.

For more information come to a parent meeting Sunday 9/17/23 at St. Ann Church after the 10:30 am mass. Anyone can attend!

PREP

Parish Religious Education Program

Our Parish has a few choices for anyone wishing to receive their sacraments and become Catholic:

Children: 1st-8th graders have two choices:

School Year Family Catechesis: Which meets once a month to view lessons completed at home.
Summer Intensive: which begins the last Monday in July through first week in August. 8:30 am-12:00 pm.

Teens: 9-12th graders will be decided on an individual bases. Depending on the level of instruction needed.

Adults seeking the faith will be entered into the RCIA program. RCIA usually meets once a week starting in September and going through the Easter Season.

Please call Donnamarie Sexton for more information. 609-522-2709 ext 218

Sacramental Preparation

The sacrament of First Holy Communion and Confirmation require two years of instruction.
