Letter from Jonathan Delgado

Dear Parishioners,

Today as spring is fully upon us we celebrate the Seventh Sunday of Easter, and Mother's Day. How appropriate that the special commemoration of the special woman in our lives occurs during the month of May dedicated to our Blessed Mother. So many in our parish who are dedicated to Notre Dame de la Mer have a deep love and devotion to our spiritual Mother.

The role of Mary the Holy Mother of God is shown to us a model for all women and the many virtues they possess, especially love, strength, fidelity, an undying devotion to work and the ability to know when to offer support and encouragement. With war and terrorism still very present in our daily lives we implore the help of Mother Mary to help us find peace and protect us from all harm. We observe this Marian month within the great fifty days of Easter Celebration as we approach the great feast of Pentecost.

As I think of the many wonderful woman in our Parish Family, I am inspired by their goodness and dedication and realize how blessed we are to be among them. This parish could not be what it is without their contribution, resourcefulness, talents and their willingness to share them with all of us. Mary is a sign of hope for all Christians but, especially for women whose gifts and talents are finally being recognized and appreciated.

As all Mothers celebrate this most special day may you receive the most abundant blessings through the intercession of our Holy Mother from her risen Son.

Jonathan Delgado
Director of Music & Liturgy

Misericordiae Vultus

Grace, mercy, and peace to all who are sincerely struggling to reflect seriously, engage prayerfully and act boldly on Pope Francis' letter which challenges us daily to be.....the "motto" of this Holy Year .... "Merciful like the Father". (MV14)

....and so Pope Francis continues the relationship between mercy and justice,,,,,, "Jesus speaks several times of the importance of faith over and above the observance of the law. It is in this sense that we must understand his words when, reclining at table with Mathew and the other tax collectors and sinners, he says to the Pharisees raising objections to him, "Go and learn the meaning of 'I desire mercy not sacrifice'. I have come not to call the righteous, but sinners" (Mt 9:13). Faced with a vision of justice as the mere observance of the law that judges people simply by dividing them into two groups- the just and sinners- Jesus bent on revealing the great gift of mercy that searches out sinners and offers them pardon and salvation. One can see why, on the basis of such a liberating vision of mercy as a source of new life, Jesus was rejected by the Pharisees and the other teachers of the law. In an attempt to remain faithful to the law, they merely placed burdens on the shoulders of others and undermined the Father's mercy. The appeal to a faithful observance of the law must not prevent attention from being given to matters that touch upon the dignity of the person.

The appeal Jesus makes to the text from the book of the prophet Hosea - "I desire love and not sacrifice" (6:6) - is important in this regard. Jesus affirms that, from that time onward, the rule of life for his disciples must place mercy at the centre, as Jesus himself demonstrated by sharing meals with sinners. Mercy, once again, is revealed as a fundamental aspect of Jesus' mission. This is truly challenging to his hearers, who would draw the line at a formal respect for the law. Jesus, on the other hand, goes beyond the law; the company he keeps with those the law considers sinners makes us realize the depth of his mercy.

The apostle Paul makes a similar journey. Prior to meeting Jesus on the road to Damascus, he dedicated his life to pursuing the justice of the law with zeal (cf. Phil 3:6).

His conversion to Christ led him to turn that vision upside down, to the point he would write to the Galatians: "We have believed in Christ Jesus, in order to be justified by faith in Christ, and not by works of the law, because by works of the law no one shall be justified" (2:16).

Paul's understanding of justice changes radically. He now places faith first, not justice. Salvation comes not through the observance of the law, but through faith in Jesus Christ, who in his death and resurrection brings salvation with a mercy that justifies. God's justice now becomes the liberating force for those oppressed by slavery to sin and its consequences. God's justice is his mercy (cf. Ps 51:11-16). (MV20) (Dear Jesus, help us to see justice in the light of your mercy.)
